Fire Weather Forecast

FORECAST NO: 20

NAME OF FIRE: Station Fire

PREDICTION FOR: Night Ops

UNIT: CA-ANF

SHIFT DATE: September, 9th 2009 1800-0800

SIGNED: Matt Mehle

TIME AND DATE

FORECAST ISSUED: Wednesday 9/9/09 @ 1200

Matt Mehle and Rich Thompson /s/
Incident Meteorologist

WEATHER DISCUSSION: High pressure will continue to build over the region tonight. As a result... overnight humidities will be a tad drier than last night... especially the ridge tops and southern front range. However... temperatures will be cool and similar to Tuesday's readings. One difference for tonight is that light northeast flow may develop over the eastern fire by morning.

WEATHER FORECAST:

TONIGHT:

WEATHER: Mostly clear. Areas of smoke... may be heavy in drainages from evening burn operations.

MIN TEMPERATURES: 55-64.

24 HOUR CHANGE: little

MAX HUMIDITY: lower elevations 50-65%... higher elevation 35-45%.

24 HOUR CHANGE: drier 5-15%

Lower southern front range Branch II/III 65-80%

20 FT WINDS:

RIDGETOP – South to southwest in the evening 10-20 mph with gusts up to 30 mph... becoming east to northeast by morning 6-12 mph with gusts to 15 mph.

SLOPE/VALLEY – Southwest/upslope in the evening 7-15 mph with gusts up to 25 mph... becoming northeast/downslope by morning 3-7 mph.

STABILITY/INVERSION: Moderately stable through the period. Smoke settling overnight in deeper canyons below 3000 feet.

THURSDAY FORECAST:

WEATHER: Mostly sunny. Areas of smoke.

MAX TEMPERATURES: lower elevation 88-97... higher elevation 80-88... cooler under smoke.

MIN HUMIDITY: 10-20%... locally higher under smoke from burn operations

20 FT WINDS:

RIDGETOP – East to northeast in the morning 6-12 mph with gusts to 16 mph... becoming west to southwest winds 10-20 mph with gusts up to 30 mph in the afternoon.

SLOPE/VALLEY – Northeast/downslope winds 3-7 mph in the morning... becoming southwest/upslope 8-15 with gusts to 25 mph upper slopes. Gusts up to 35 mph north end of fire near the Antelope Valley.

Extended Outlook Friday through Sunday:

High pressure overhead combined with slight offshore flow will bring a return of hotter and drier conditions to much of the fire. At this time Friday and Saturday look to be the hottest days with widespread upper 80s to 90s. There could be a few triple digit maximum temperatures in the lower elevations... but ridges will be tempered and be mostly in the 80s to lower 90s. Daytime minimum humidities will remain low and in the teens with upper single digits possible for a few hours. Overnight humidity recoveries will remain poor with slightly better recoveries over the lower elevations. Winds will be relatively light with the typical gusty southwest winds in the afternoon.

High pressure aloft will weaken on Sunday as a trough of low pressure moves toward the coast. A general cooling trend and slight moistening trend can be expected.
